<For Immediate Release>

Tooling Research Inc, is pleased to announce the appointment of Allagash Valve and Controls, Inc, a division of Allagash International, as the sole distributor for Valcom Indico® series 1620 Failsafes for all New England states, and New York. The product supplies emergency or secondary power to valve actuators in the event of a power failure, and can be powered by conventional or solar power.

“We drive this business forward on the principles of well engineered, reliable products, backed up by excellent customer support. Terry Ingram of Allagash International has assembled a team that parallels our own commitment to both initial quality, and supporting the customer after the sale is completed.” Says Milton Florest, President of Tooling Research Inc., parent company of Valcom. “Allagash International’s dedication to servicing their customers coupled with their broad customer base in several of our target sectors makes them an ideal distribution platform for us.”

Valcom, a division of Tooling Research Inc., located in Walpole, Massachusetts, manufactures various products for the wastewater and water treatment industries. The Indico® family of products includes calibration columns, pulsation dampeners, valve position indicators, back pressure and pressure relief valves, and Series 1620 Failasfe systems.
